

Despite the great achievements of mankind in the twenty-first century, peace and happiness are still not enjoyed. Trillions have been spent to eradicate ills and evils – from poverty, inequalities and unemployment, to crime, violence, terrorism and global warming, using the best brains and millions of dedicated people. Yet those evils still multiply. Why? It is due to the fact that, during all of these decades, we have only fought the 'symptoms'. We have mistaken those symptoms for the real disease.

Dr S J P Thompson has learnt about the evolution, course and end of those ills because of his privileged opportunities. He has learnt about the lives of various families for about three generations. With this information, he has formed very clear, original concepts and new ideas with which anyone can comprehend those evils and the mindset behind terrible events such as 9/11, the hate-filled bombing of European cities and other cities around the world, the rise of the Taliban and Al Qaeda, unending miseries in Afghanistan, Iraq or Darfur, and so form appropriate policies to end those evils within a predictable timescale.

Further, Dr Thompson's methods help to correct injurious and wrong policies. Despite people-friendly policies and other efforts, Western countries develop many enemies within their own countries and around the globe. With this book they can create more than two million happy, grateful, friendly families of various racial, national and religious groups around the globe every year.

What else does the world need for a worthy life in peace and happiness?
